

Omega Hazmat is dedicated to creating safe and healthy working conditions that prevent work-related injuries and illnesses for our workers, contractors, clients, authorized visitors, and all those affected by our asbestos removal and demolition operations. To achieve this, the top management will:

- Implement, maintain, monitor, and continually improve an accredited and compliant OH&S management system
- Require directors and managers to exhibit leadership in developing a positive safety culture
- Set, monitor, and review OH&S objectives in consultation with the management team and the OH&S Committee
- Fully comply with all applicable legislation, standards, and codes of practice, identify and remove hazards, and implement measures to reduce OH&S risks
- Communicate, consult with, and encourage participation of managers, workers, and the OH&S Committee in health and safety matters
- Provide information, instruction, training, and supervision of workers
- Provide resources (human, financial, technology & physical) to support the ongoing implementation of this policy
- Ensure that roles, responsibilities, and accountabilities related to OH&S are clearly communicated to managers, workers, subcontractors, visitors, and clients impacted by our operations.
